REALM OF DESIGN INC

ARCHITECTURAL ELEMENTS

REALM OF DESIGN, a family owned and operated company, was established in 1991 by founders Scott and Cindy McCombs in the heart of Las Vegas. The foundation of the company was based on providing designers, architects, and homeowners with the most breathtaking architectural elements the world has ever seen. Our devotion to customer satisfaction, along with an unlimited combination of design variations and materials, give us the capability of making any design a reality.

The man behind the curtain, Scott McCombs, has been specializing in architectural elements for over 20 years. He has a vast history of custom projects, including Frank Lloyd Wright's "The Realm of Ideas", which entailed the recreation of the "Usonian Automatic Exhibition House" that was erected in 10 different cities touring the United States from 1988 to 1990. His same passion and excitement has been passed onto his family, which comprises almost one third of the company. With the family's various positions throughout the company, along with Scott's previous experience in the fields of construction, design, building, and engineering, Realm of Design brings forth the best in design and new architectural concepts for commercial and residential projects.

Technology is a very important part of the company and is thought to be the most advanced in our industry. Using 3D scanners, 3D modeling, and a 5-axis Computer Numerical Control machine we have the leading edge. These tools allow endless possibilities, including face recreation, rapid prototyping, 2D and 3D renderings, sculpted stone, clay, wood, and much more. Although technology is important it is the hand touch put into each piece that sets us apart. Together with our in-house master artisan and Scott and Cindy's attention to detail, being artisans themselves, we can bring you that old world yet divine.

Along with our distinctive "Aged Stone" finishes and Euro-Lite High Density polyurethane products, we founder metals such as bronze, pewter, copper, and aluminum adding to our unique design element.

We thank you for your consideration and allowing us to share our family's passion with you. Let us complete your realm by visiting us on the web at www.realmofdesign.com

AGED STONE COLLECTION

Our Aged Stone Collection will enhance any project with a sense of history and timeless design. For many years our artisans have designed thousands of interchangeable pieces that will work together to create just the right focal point that you and your project desire. The pieces are individually hand made and each piece is unique to itself. Variations in colors and texture are and should be expected with the aged stone product, as they are made of and manufactured to replicate natural stone. Variations are a natural characteristic of the product and thus the beauty of it. We are also capable of designing or taking any custom design from start to finish meeting any style.

FRENCH

Add elegance and style with our French mantel. It comes beautifully sculpted with an acanthus leaf cartouche centerpiece. The scale-like legs are covered with flowing floral accents extending throughout the mantel and ending with a lion's claw atop a double step plinth. An optional hearth (above) and a cartouche over mantel (above, right) are available to give a more magnificent effect.

STELLA

The Stella mantel design is ideal for a home with little to no limitations. It features a deep curved corbel leg with scroll top design and a deep mantel. It can also be purchased with an over mantel (Stella Fiore, bottom right) making it an even greater accent piece within your home.

SIENNA*

The central curve of the Sienna mantel is sure to give your fireplace a burst of excitement and bring together any room in which it is placed.

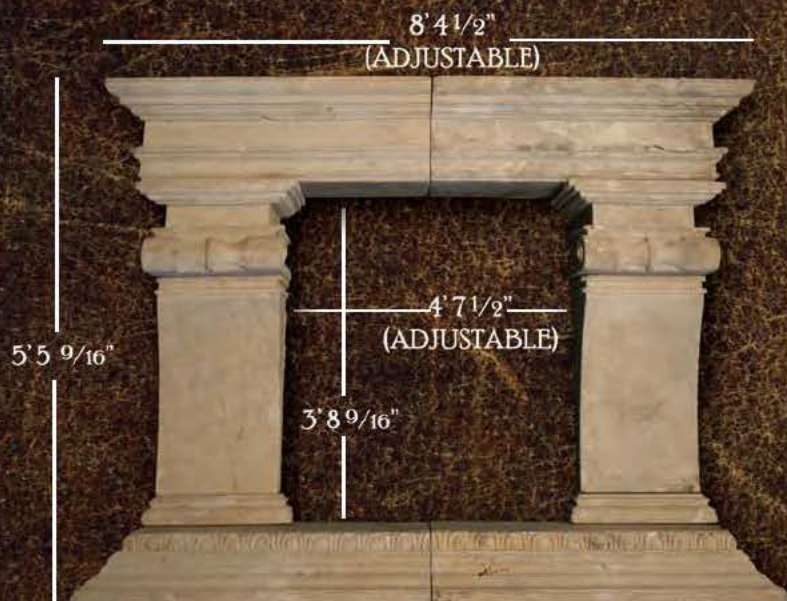

SORRENTO*

This mantel offers a perfect proportion of carved and curved lines to make the Sorrento a great accent to accommodate the fireplace within your home.

WINDSOR*

The Windsor is a very versatile mantel design having been used in Tuscan, Spanish, Contemporary, and Modern style homes for years. This mantel can also be used with many different over mantels.

BELLA*

The Bella mantel design is ideal for a fireplace surround with little to no limitations on each side of your firebox. It features a wide corbel leg design and a deep mantel.

*MANTELS CAN ALSO BE PURCHASED AS QUARTER SCALE MINIATURES. OPTIONAL HEARTH STYLES SHOWN.

MEDICI VERASAILLES

A grand over mantel is incorporated into the Medici to exaggerate the size and give the room and your fireplace a larger than life elegance. The over mantels recessed panels give depth and can be adjusted to the size of the room. Included within the over mantel is a cartouche center piece with surrounding acanthus leaf foliage as well as sculpted acanthus leaf details on the double stepped corners of the header mantel.

MEDICI

The sophistication of the Medici was created through the carefully sculpted acanthus leaf foliage placed upon the embossed corbelled legs. The continuous scrolls that run up the legs help to build up the mantel to perfect proportion for support of the deep mantel above. The components can be adjusted to fit the largest firebox sizes.

EURO-LITE HDF COLLECTION

©Realm Of Design 2007

We now present to you our Euro-Lite HDF Collection.

Allow Realm of Design to bring your dreams to fulfillment with our Euro-Lite High-Density Foam products. The lightweight yet durable material embellishes many businesses and homes throughout the country. With easy install this is a great alternative to wood or concrete.

A variety of products can be interchanged to form a unique style and can be adjusted to fit your requirements. We would be pleased to help with design insight and custom creations.

COLUMNS & BALUSTRADE SYSTEMS

Our Euro-Lite HDF, High-Density Foam, allows us to produce high quality detailed products that will last for years to come. The following columns and balustrade systems have been molded to replicate its cement counterparts. The benefit being that the product is more lightweight with the same strength and durability that you have come to expect. These products come with a primer finish and should be painted once installed to your desired taste.

Keep in mind that our entire collection is offered in various sizes and our columns are fully adjustable with a variety of optional capitals and bases. Most of our components are interchangeable to allow for a vast number of combinations.

Custom design is also available, so please call and work with a member of our knowledgeable staff for design ideas.
